More Modelling

The "MagicSquare" problem

Place the numbers 1 to 9 in the square so that
- each number is used once
- each cell contains one number
- each row, column and full diagonal sums to the same total

What about for squares of any size?

Model this problem as a CSP, and then implement it in Choco

Next lecture ...

Yet more modelling